

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS
2008 Internationalizing The Curriculum Awards

ANNOUNCING FIVE $1000 AWARDS

International Programs is pleased to announce FIVE awards of $1,000 for tenure-track teaching faculty to participate in internationalizing the curriculum across the university. The award program is intended to (a) develop new courses with significant international/global content, or (b) enhance existing courses through *introducing significant international/global content, or (c) enhance existing courses through *increasing significantly international/global content. Content includes both substantive and theoretical material, and may include case-studies of non-U.S. phenomena; research, scholarship, or creative activities reflective of non-US cultures or the U.S. in a global context; images, media, and materials illustrative of non-U.S. phenomena. Proposals are encouraged but not limited to ones that (a) demonstrate impact upon the general education curriculum and Freshman Focus, and (b) include a learning-outcomes assessment mechanism. Proposals from all disciplines are highly encouraged, particularly those outside of the humanities and social sciences.

The proposal should include:

- ◆ A one to two page description of the proposed curriculum enhancement, benefits to students and the program, which should include details of how often the course will be offered, and an estimate of how many students will be enrolled
- ◆ In the case of an existing course, a current syllabus and a revised syllabus
- ◆ In the case of a new course, a proposed syllabus and a statement of support from the department chair

For successful proposals, half of the award will be paid upon acceptance, and half upon scheduling of the course. The departmental or college finance officer should contact Sheryl Hagen-Zakarison, International Programs Area Finance Officer, zakariso@wsu.edu via e-mail to provide an (8) digit budget/project account code. The budget/project given should be in funds 00101. Sheryl may be reached at 509.335.3378 if there are any questions.

DEADLINE: FEBRUARY 1, 2008
