THE PROGRAM

The University of Guadalajara in Jalisco has been in existence for nearly 200 years. It is the second largest city in México with a population of over 3 million. Guadalajara has pleasant year-round weather, summer and winter both are usually very mild. The climate is often described as "nearly perfect." Although the city moves at a fast pace, things here have a way of seeming to always remain serene. Guadalajara is also a city of monuments, with a rich heritage of Mexico's colonial past, parks and flowers, fountains and tree-lined avenues, and of course mariachis. A city alive with attractions that can keep you entertained for weeks, Guadalajara is the ideal location for students looking for an authentic intercultural experience in a vibrant urban center.
